Thanks for coming

A gala banquet at the Tigris Restaurant and Supper Club last Monday concluded a day filled with tours and presentations as the city of Romulus exchanged mayors with the City of Charlotte for Michigan Week's annual Mayor's Exchange Day. Extending a thank you for coming to Charlotte Mayor Daryl Baker was Councilman

DONNA ZAVITZ

Charging that the city had been "unfair" to her and that she had been "passed over", Donna Lee Zavitz, coordinator of senior citizens activities and programs in Romulus for the last three years, has resigned.

Mrs. Zavitz told the Roman she worked 40 to 50 hours a week, or as much as the job required, and was paid on an hourly basis as a part-time worker.

"Since I've been here, the city brought in two full-time employees who had been working out in the park and elsewhere out of the recreation building," she explained.

She said the two employees now work in the recreation building, are on the regular city payroll, and are paid full-time job benefits.

"I talked to Dennis (Davidson), and he talked to the mayor, but I did not hear from him (the mayor)," she said. Davidson is director of the city's parks and recreation department.

Mayor William M. Oakley was contacted by the Roman, but he said he had "no comment" on the matter. Mrs. Zavitz said she was "upset" at not being placed in city employment on a full-time basis.

She added: "The mayor chooses the kind of employees he wishes to surround himself with. I thought that I had proven myself."

"I love the job and the people that I work with. The mayor has made it impossible for me to stay, so I'll have to go someplace else."

At two consecutive City Council sessions in the last three weeks, a group of senior citizens appeared to speak on behalf of Mrs. Zavitz. They expressed disappointment at her resignation and questioned why she had not been appointed director of the parks and recreation department.

Mrs. Zavitz had been working for the city on an hourly basis for six years, first going to work under former Mayor Terry Trout.

"I actually do not have a title," she said. "But I coordinated all programs and activities for senior citizens in Romulus," explained Mrs. Zavitz. "I also put in many hours of volunteer time for our seniors and for the city."

Mrs. Zavitz' last day on the job will be May 30. She said she and her husband may move to another area.

Receipts delayed

Because of the holidays, carrier collection receipts were not distributed to our newspaper carriers in Belleville, Romulus, Wayne and Inkster.

We apologize for this inconvenience, however, we urge our readers to pay his or her carrier promptly.

Public hearing airs cable TV proposals

A public hearing June 19 at the Romulus City Hall will enable area residents to ask questions of three cable television companies hoping to land a franchise that will serve five area communities.

Attending the 7 p.m. session in council chambers will be the city councils, mayors, township boards and supervisors from Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships and the cities of Belleville and Romulus.

Officials from the three cable TV firms will be on hand to answer questions from community officials and from the audience. Companies bidding for an area franchise are Comcast of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa.; United Cable of Englewood, Colo.; and Omnicom of Plymouth.

The three cable TV companies recently submitted written proposals advertised for by the Western Five Community Conference. The Western Five, currently headquartered in Van Buren Township Hall, is an organization formed last year to better serve mutual needs of the five forementioned communities.

Directed by Henry Redman, the Western Five currently is funded by a federal grant. Recently, it submitted an application for refunding for its second year of operation.

Both Comcast and United Cable have several cable TV franchises in operation and have many years of experience in the field, dating back to the inception of cable TV in this country. Omnicom is a fledgling company of very recent origin.

The Western Five board of directors, which is made up of elected officials of the five communities, it represents, recently directed Redman to take steps to have the three proposals evaluated by an expert in the field.

Whether that course of action is taken or the separate city councils and township boards decide themselves, one of the three cable TV firms will be awarded a franchise for installation of a cable TV system for the entire 5-community area.

Although most cable TV companies offer similar services, only direct questioning can bring out what each will do in the way of providing such things as local studios, television crews for locally-originated programming and monetary returns to the franchise awardee.

Most cable TV firms offer 35- to 40-channel capability. Comcast, however, recently announced it will soon offer a new 58-channel system made by Magnavox.

As its name implies, cable TV brings the signal into the home from a cable much like a telephone wire. The cable brings the signal from a local master antenna which receives its signals from an overhead satellite in space.

Currently, cable TV costs $7 to $8 per month, following an initial installation charge of $25 to $40, which sometimes is dropped during the first couple of months. For an additional $7 to $8 per month, residents can get home box office movies, featuring first-run cinema presentations.

MICHELLE DECHENE

MARJORIE TRUMP

Trump, DeChene are No. 1 and 2 of Class of 1980

Principal Joel R. Carr of Romulus High School has announced who the valedictorian and salutatorian for the graduating class of 1980 are.

Marjorie Faith Trump, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Trump of Ronald Street, is graduating No. 1 in her class of 270 seniors. Miss Trump has maintained a perfect 4.00 average for her high school career. She will enter Asbury College in Kentucky in September and plans to major in pre-law.

Named as salutatorian is Michelle Lynn DeChene, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred DeChene of Biddle Street. Miss DeChene has achieved a 3.89 average and will enter the University of Michigan-Dearborn, where she, too, will study pre-law.

Both girls have been life-long friends, but academically competitive in their high school years. Both have been active in the National Honor Society and in other areas of leadership and responsibility in the school.

Other students listed in the distinguished Top 10 are James Hering, Lori Willoughby, Virginia Tyree, Charles Lyles, Kenneth Scafe, Beth Clark, Pamela Massicotte and Jeff Cady. There are 46 honor students who are graduating with a 3.0 or better average in the Class of 1980.

The Baccalaureate is scheduled for June 8, at 2 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Commencement will be June 12, at 7 p.m. on the high school athletic field. In the event of inclement weather, the ceremony will be moved to the high school gymnasium. The public is invited to attend both services.

County commissioners consider $2 park fee

A "friendly" proposal by Wayne County Commissioner Richard E. Manning of Redford Township to the county parks trustees at a Public Works Committee session may lead to a $2 park fee as one method of keeping rest rooms, ball diamonds and other facilities open to the public.

The committee, chaired by Commissioner Clarence R. Young of Ecorse, in addition to Manning's informal proposal, also recommended the park trustees return with a full report on the amount of funding they will require to keep facilities — particularly rest rooms — open this summer in all county parks. The problem has become increasingly worse at the Edward Hines Parkway where attendance has leaped to nearly 40,000 during hot days, causing a number of confrontations with residents living in the area.

Manning, in explaining his plan, said signs could be posted throughout the park warning motorists that a $2 parking fee "sticker" is required. Courtesy tickets would then be issued by police and motorists in violation would be given three days to purchase the parking sticker.

"Parking fees," he said, "would not be required of bicyclists or pedestrians, and no one would be refused right-of-way through the park. Only those wishing to park their vehicles — and that includes motorcyclists — will be required to display the $2 'park sticker'."

"We are doing nothing more than is required at state and federal parks, and it provides us with necessary funds to maintain the park facilities."

Park trustees are to report back with their recommendations within a few days. All county park systems are operated by the Wayne County Road Commission through the Park Board.

In other committee action, the Public Works Committee also approved a $550,000 federal grant to construct an additional 3½ miles of bike paths through Hines Park.

Employment Center hosts fashion show

The YWCA of Western Wayne County and the Westland Women's Employment Center will present a

Park's golf course opens

Willow Metropark Golf Course, the newest in Wayne County, is now open for the 1980 season.

This 18-hole course covers 6,830 yards and is a par 72. Course hours start at 8 a.m. on weekdays, and earlier on weekends. Weekend and holiday rates are 18 holes, $8, and 9 holes, $5 weekdays, 18 holes, $7, and 9 holes $4.

Golfers must provide their own equipment, however, power carts, hand carts and a limited line of golf accessories are available at the Starter Trailer.

A small snack bar offers limited food service, and there is space for more than 100 cars at the parking lot. The entrance is on Huron River Drive, just past West Road.

For information contact Willow Metropark Golf Course at 753-4469 (New Boston).

Fashion Luncheon and Cosmetic Makeovers for the Contemporary Woman from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The luncheon will be held at the YWCA, located at 26279 Michigan Avenue, between Beech Daly and John Daly, Inkster.

Cosmetic makeovers will be done by Catty Peru of Fashion Two Twenty Cosmetics, Bob Lancaster of the Peacock Room in Canton, Cheryl Tucker of Gantos, Bernice Talley of Fashion Fair at Fairlane and Donna Cieslak of Mary Kay Cosmetics. Following the cosmetic makeovers, fashions will be presented by Princess Harris of WCAR Radio during lunch.

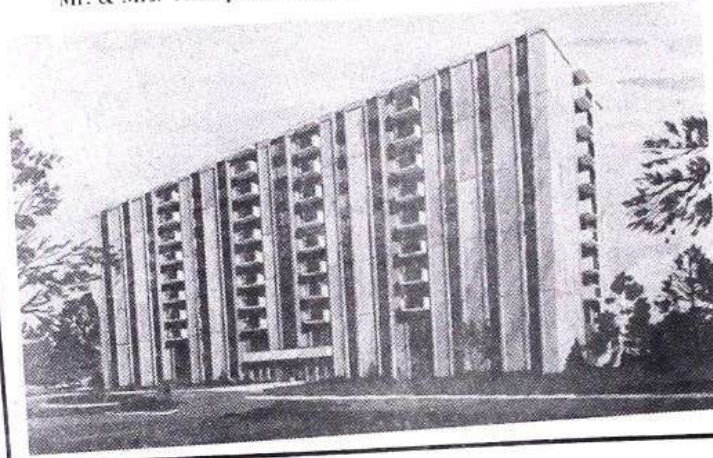

In the afternoon Linda Clemons of Promotional Image Contract Associates in Ann Arbor will discuss the importance of presenting a professional image through dress, makeup and personality. The focus of her presentation will be for the woman who is employed or looking for employment.

The cost of the luncheon and fashion show is $5. To register call the YWCA. For further information call Theresa Mundy or Leslie Frederick at the YWCA at 561-4110.

Belleville, Van Buren gear up for strawberry festival

The Belleville-Van Buren Township area is gearing up for its fourth annual Strawberry Festival June 20-22, which this year will incorporate the first parade through downtown Belleville.

The parade will start from Belleville High School, about 11:30 a.m. June 20, and wind its way north down Main Street through the heart of the city.

Parade organizers report that the parade will include the festival queen, crowned on the night before, clowns, marching bands, several horse units, Boy and Girl Scouts, and numerous floats prepared by local individuals and organizations.

As in past years, strawberry picking at farms of local growers will begin each of the three days of the festival and continue throughout the entire day.

Other festival highlights include a Rotary Club pancake breakfast from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at Belleville High School, an art fair downtown all day Saturday and Sunday, 1-mile, 4-mile and 6-mile runs Saturday morning at the high school, the festival queen contest at 6:30 p.m. Friday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, and square dancing at 6 p.m. Saturday in downtown Belleville.

St. Anthony's, 409 W. Columbia St., where the festival first got its start, will host the bulk of entertainment, games, dancing, food booths, contests, and rides. Three other churches are taking an increasingly larger role in festival participation — Trinity Episcopal, 11575 Belleville Road; Belleville United Presbyterian, 11900 Belleville Road; and First United Methodist, 417 Charles St. Food, games, dancing, music, rides and raffles will be held at these locations also.

Also proving every year to be one of the top features of the festival is the strawberry eating contest, which this year will take place at 2 p.m. at St. Anthony's. Contestants, usually well-known area residents, gorge themselves on a large 4-pound strawberry shortcake. Winner is the contestant whose shortcake weighs the least after time is called.

The festival will conclude at 9 p.m. Sunday with a raffle drawing at St. Anthony's.

A schedule of the festival shows: — JUNE 20, Berry picking at the growers' farms, all day; 4-8 p.m., strawberry treats, hot dogs and sloppy joes at the Presbyterian Church; 5-11 p.m. ethnic foods, bingo, casino, pony and amusement rides, snack bar at St. Anthony Church; 4-9 p.m. Strawberry Bakery and Restaurant at Trinity Church; 5 p.m. Clowning around with skits and balloons at St. Anthony's; 5-8 p.m.

rolled cabbage dinner at St. Anthony's; 5:30 p.m. feeding time at the small animal farm, St. Anthony's; 6 p.m. craft demonstration at St. Anthony's; 6-9 p.m. Crackpot square dancing at Trinity Church; 6:30 p.m. Strawberry Queen contest at St. Anthony's; and 8-11 p.m. dancing to the Michigan Polka Tells at St. Anthony's.

— JUNE 21, strawberry picking at growers' farms, all day; 8:30 a.m. 1-, 4- and 6-mile runs at Belleville High School; 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Rotary Club Pancake Breakfast at Belleville High School; 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. art fair at National Bank of Detroit; 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. feeding time at the small animal farm at St. Anthony's; 10 a.m.-11 p.m. bingo, casino, games, amusement rides at St. Anthony's; 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Strawberry Bakery and Restaurant at Trinity Church; 11 a.m. festival parade, starts at Belleville High School; 11 a.m. crafts demonstration at St. Anthony's; 12 noon-8 p.m. free music festival, food and goodies at the Presbyterian Church; 12 noon-8 p.m. tours of Martha Mary Chapel at Presbyterian Church; 12:15 p.m. tricycle race at old township hall; 1 p.m. annual bicycle race at old township hall; 1:30 p.m. free entertainment at St. Anthony's; 2 p.m. strawberry shortcake eating contest at St. Anthony's; 3-7 p.m. spaghetti dinner at St. Anthony's; 5-6 p.m. ethnic folk dancing at St. Anthony's; 6 p.m. Crackpot square dancing in downtown area; 6:30 p.m. animal demonstration at St. Anthony's; 7-9 p.m. dancing to the music of "The Northern Breeze" at Trinity Church; 7-11 p.m. dancing to the music of the Bobcats at St. Anthony's.

— JUNE 22, strawberry picking at growers' farms, all day; 8 a.m. lakeside church service at Horizon Park; 8 a.m. pancake breakfast at the Methodist Church; 10 a.m.-8 p.m. art fair at National Bank of Detroit; 11 a.m.-9 p.m. fun, games, strawberry goodies at St. Anthony's; 12 noon-8 p.m. free music festival at Presbyterian Church; 12 noon-8 p.m. chapel tours at Presbyterian Church; 12 noon-5 p.m. strawberry goodies, fun, games, raffle, at Trinity Church; 12 noon-7 p.m. barbeque chicken dinner at St. Anthony's; 1-9 p.m. amusement rides, dunk tank, bingo at St. Anthony's; 2:30 p.m. ethnic dancers; 4-9 p.m. Tune Mixers German Band, free dancing; at St. Anthony's, 6 p.m. feeding time at small animal farm, St. Anthony's; 6 p.m. Tiger Booster Club raffle drawing at St. Anthony's; 6:30 p.m. animal demonstration at St. Anthony's; and 9 p.m. raffle drawing at St. Anthony's.

Festival queen competition set

With Belleville's annual Strawberry Festival just around the corner (June 20-22), young area belles, 17 through 24 years may be wondering what they have to do to enter the contest for festival queen.

Queen contestants should fill out the accompanying form and bring, or mail, it to the Enterprise Office, 116 S. Fourth St., Belleville 48111.

Also, each young lass is asked to bring or send a recent photograph, if possible, and to provide the name of a person who could serve as her escort should she be selected to reign over the festival activities.

Each contestant also will be asked to answer five questions during the judging.

The pageant this year will be held on June 20 at St. Anthony's Church, 409 W. Columbia, Belleville, at 6:30 p.m.

Applications must be submitted by no later than 5 p.m. June 6 to the Enterprise Office.

Sgt. Norman Olmstead leads two of his charges during the 2-week training course for all members of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department who will operate motorcycles. Held on grounds of Wayne County General Hospital, the course will familiarize 12 officers in all phases of motorcycle operation, including riding on rough terrain, high-speed chases and dismounting. As members of the department's secondary road patrol, motorcycle officers will work in all of the county's townships and cities, including Hamtramck, Romulus, Dearborn Heights and Garden City. Sgt. Olmstead shares training duties with Sgt. Dan Kerber of the secondary road patrol, which functions separately from the department's traffic division.

VB continues adult ed through WWCS

The Van Buren school board recently approved operation of another year of adult education, community education and the Headstart Program in its school district by the Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

Dr. Elvin Peets, Van Buren superintendent, said the annual agreement between the two school districts, however, has been expanded to include a tuition-type program for preschool children.

If funds can be obtained from the state, he said, the adult education portion of the overall program also will be expanded to include a special program for high school dropouts.

Dr. Peets said details also remain to be worked out to aid those students who drop out before graduating.

With spending curtailed in the Van Buren School District, he said it would take careful planning to expand and not spend additional funds.

Under the agreement with Wayne-Westland, that school district would be responsible for financial operation of the 3-phase education program, in addition to the development of an alternative education program for students in grades 10-12.

Also, Wayne-Westland Community Schools would have Van Buren School District teachers, counselors and related staff members become employees of the Wayne-Westland adult and community education department.

Under the program, Van Buren would supply classrooms, office space and other necessary facilities and equipment and would return any fees, assessments and other money collected to the Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

Also, under the program, Van Buren will provide transportation, if feasible, for Headstart students to facility locations and also provide facilities and transportation necessary for operation of an alternative education program for students in grades 10-12.

CPR: Do you know what to do?

Tom Griffin of the Belleville Fire Department has posed an interesting and educational question to all area residents.

He asks "what would you do" in the event that any of the following occurrences happened in your presence:

- Saw someone being pulled out of the lake;
- Saw your neighbor collapse while mowing the lawn;
- Witnessed a family member choke on food at the dinner table;
- Watched your husband knocked unconscious while fixing the vacuum cleaner.

Griffin explained that it takes an average of 10 minutes for an ambulance to respond with trained medical personnel. By that time, a brain deprived of oxygen is considered "biologically dead," he said.

What can you do? With proper training and the application of CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation), the accident victim's heart can be properly massaged and oxygenated blood sent back to the brain, keeping it alive until the injured person arrives at a nearby hospital, Griffin said.

The basic life-support techniques of CPR are learned and put to use by all members of the police and fire departments in Van Buren and Sumpter townships and the city of Belleville.

But, Griffin emphasized, anyone can take advantage of the opportunity being offered by the Belleville Fire Department this week and next month. CPR courses amounting to eight hours of instruction will be offered from 7 to 10 p.m. tonight and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. June 7 and 14.

Griffin said both classes must be completed to earn the American Red Cross CPR certificate. With only 20 persons taught in each of the May and June classes, Griffin urged interested area residents to call him immediately at 699-2033.

"Remember," he advised, "You can save a life, if you know how."

In Brief

Shirley Sulkey, secretary to Supervisor Robert K. Demski, recently was appointed as Sumpter Township's representative on the Canton, Van Buren and Sumpter Water and Sewage Disposal Authority.

Action taken by the Sumpter Township Board for her appointment was unanimous. Mrs. Sulkey will replace Patricia Jordan, who resignation was accepted by the board, also unanimously.

Volunteer firemen are being sought by the Belleville Fire Department. Interested applicants are asked to call 697-7265.

Tyler Elementary School will be sponsoring a flea market on its blacktopped area from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. June 7 to raise money for the purchase of a microcomputer for use in the classroom.

Table space — 6- by 12-foot areas — are available for a charge of $5 per space per family. A $3 non-refundable deposit for the space must be paid by June 4, with the remaining $2 due June 7.

Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

For further information, contact Tim Gambino at 699-5818. The school is located at 42200 Tyler Road, Belleville.

Residents of Van Buren Township who are interested in working at Van Buren Park this summer should apply at Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road. Applicants can apply for either lifeguard positions or gatehouse and maintenance personnel.

"Park personnel should be at least 18 years of age, enthusiastic, hardworking and enjoy working with people," explained Mark J. Rairick, director of the Parks and Recreation Department.

Job interviews will take place the last week in April, with Van Buren Park opening Memorial Day weekend. For additional information, call 699-2001.

Parade entries sought

Parade entries currently are being sought for Belleville's fourth annual Strawberry Festival parade, slated for 11 a.m. June 21.

Those interested in taking part in the parade are asked to fill out the accompanying form, or contact Mike Kohut at 699-8683 or the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce at 697-7151.

10 percent of VB voters participated in primary

Although Michigan's recent primary election has been ridiculed on all sides as being impractical and costly, it did provide an insight into how Van Buren Township residents feel about the various candidates.

Information released by Clerk Doreen Craven showed that 1,060 of the township's 10,120 registered voters cast tallies, about 10 percent, in the primary contest on May 20.

On the Democrat side, Gov. Jerry Brown of California got 35 votes, La Rouché, 3, uncommitted, 66.

Although President Carter and Sen. Kennedy were not on the ballot by their own choosing, they received 25 and 14 votes, respectively, the clerk said.

On the Republican side, Bush bested Reagan 432 to 373 votes, with Anderson trailing with 61. Stassen got 2 votes, Fernandez, 1, and uncommitted votes were 18, Craven reported.

Although Democrats will vote for precinct delegates in the August primary election, Republicans elected delegates in 6 of 10 precincts.

The clerk said Randall Halleck got 3 write-in votes, the minimum required by law, and was elected Republican delegate from Precinct 2. Other delegates elected were: Precinct 3, John Amster 23; Precinct 4, Richard Hunter, 30; Precinct 6, Darrell Kress, 37; Precinct 7, John Day, 20; and Precinct 8, Deborah Adams, 19.

Adams defeated her opponent, Chris Ravert, by one vote.

Postal Service launches stamp collecting program

The Postal Service is launching a new program designed to acquaint its customers with the educational benefits of stamp collecting.

According to Romulus Postmaster Martha Wensko, the campaign, called "Collect the Spirit of America," will focus on stamps issued in recent years that commemorate various aspects of American life and history.

"Our window clerks will be showing our various philatelic products to customers and answering questions about stamp collecting," the postmaster said.

Philatelic products offered by the Postal Service during the campaign, which concludes later this week, include "Stamps and Stories," a 256-page book designed to introduce non-collectors to stamp collecting.

Other products include the 1978 and 1979 mint sets containing all commemorative and special stamps issued by the Postal Service during those years. New collectors also can obtain several topical stamp collecting kits being offered during the program.

Wensko explained that stamp collecting has become the world's most popular hobby, attracting more than 20 million collectors in the United States alone.

The postmaster also announced that Next Day Express Mail Service from Romulus to more than 500 major metropolitan destinations cities across the United States now is available.

Express mail service has been designed to meet the increasing demand for fast reliable delivery of letters, documents, merchandise and other mailable items. It is the Postal Service's top of the line service, according to Wensko, who added that it has a 95 percent on time delivery record.

"This is another effort on the part of the Postal Service aimed at better serving the delivery needs of urgent mail especially business mail with a need for expedited service," she said.

Customers can deposit any mailable item at the Romulus Post Office before 5 p.m. Two types of service are available — the Express Mail Service which offers availability at the destination post office as early as 10 a.m. on the next retail business day or Addressee Express Mail Service which offers delivery to the addressee's home, or place of business, often as early as 11 a.m. but no later than 3 p.m. the next day.

Pick-up of Next Day Service Express Mail is available on a regular scheduled basis. Any item weighing up to 70 lbs. and up to 100 inches in length and girth can be mailed Express Mail.

The service offers a full postage refund to the mailer if delivery is late, unless delayed by strike or work stoppage. Document reconstruction insurance of up to $50,000 per piece and merchandise insurance up to a value of $500 are provided at no extra charge, Wensko said.

The Romulus Post Office is one of 13 offices recently added to the Express Mail program. The post office is located at 11189 Shook Road.

For further information, contact the post office at 941-2345 or 941-2347.

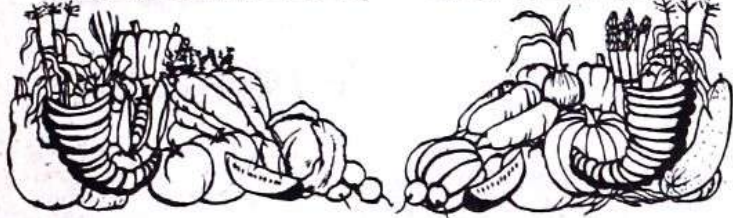

New masons

Three Romulus men were in a class of 315 Masons from 11 southeastern Michigan counties to receive Scottish Rite degrees at the semi-annual reunion of the Detroit Masonic Temple. Members of the 288th reunion class, named in honor of Howard M. Patterson of Wayne, a past master of the Palestine Lodge No. 357 F & AM, a past Sovereign Prince of Carson Council, Princes of Jerusalem, and secretary of the Detroit Scottish Bodies since 1971, were Lloyd P. Hester (from left) of Huron River Drive, William B. Shannon of Delta and James D. Williams of Washington Street, all of Romulus.

GARDENER'S NOTEBOOK

Seed packets can't tell you everything! From Michigan State University Extension horticulture specialists come tips on growing better peas.

Where to plant: Almost any well drained soil is suitable, as long as it is not extremely acid. Peas need full sun and plenty of water during dry weather, especially, if they're forming pods.

When to plant: Peas are one of the earliest spring vegetables. They can be planted as soon as the soil is dry enough to work. They will not do well if planted past mid-May in mid-Michigan. Coming into production in hot weather drastically reduces yields. Peas can be planted around July 15 for a fall harvest in September, but a fall crop usually isn't as successful as a spring crop.

How to plant: Sow seeds 1 inch deep and 2 to 3 inches apart in rows 2 feet apart. Use 4 cups of 5-20-20 fertilizer per 100 feet of row, half mixed in the soil about 2 weeks before planting and the rest sprinkled alongside the rows — not on the seeds — after planting. Peas do not need much nitrogen and seeds may be injured by direct contact with commercial fertilizers.

How to grow: Water during dry weather. Give vining types of peas some sort of support to grow on. Tree branches, stakes, chicken wire, string or wire can be used.

When to harvest: Edible-podded peas should be harvested when the peas are just beginning to form. The exception is the variety Sugar Snap. They can be eaten pod and all, like snap peas. Garden peas should be picked when pods are firm and well filled but before they start to change color. Old peas lose their sweetness and become starchy and tough.

Cook participates in 4-H training

Belleville resident Connie Cook was one of 25 participants who recently returned from a 4-H forum, entitled "Health Leader Training," at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C.

The forum provided volunteer leaders with greater understanding of 4-H health education. The forum featured lectures, workshops and field trips. Participants had opportunities to exchange ideas during a health fair and other informal discussions.

Ms. Cook plans to use this experience to set up a series of exercises and first aid programs at the Wayne County 4-H office. She also will be attending a State Health Developmental Committee in Lansing where she will help set up state-wide health programs.

The forum was conducted by the National 4-H Council on behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service. The auxiliary to the American Optometric Association provided financial support as part of their ongoing support to 4-H for eye care education.

Park's Farm Center opens

The Restaurant at the Kensington Farm Center in Kensington Metropark near Brighton-Milford will open to the public for the 1980 summer season starting Friday, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

This is the first phase of the redevelopment of the Kensington Farm Center, administered entirely by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (which replaces the Kensington Children's Farm operation whose assets HCMA purchased in December 1979).

Gerald Sixbey is the restaurant manager. The restaurant will feature a variety of dinners — including chicken, roast beef and fish — and dinner specials; and a luncheon menu with dinners, daily specials, sandwiches, salad bar, beverages and desserts plus breakfast starting at 9 a.m. Carry-out food service and picnic lunches also will be available.

For additional information contact Kensington Farm

Center Restaurant at 685-9105 or by writing 2128 West Buno Road, Milford 48042.

The Farm Center with animals and special group services is expected to open for the 1980 season in mid-summer.

There are no special farm entry charges, however, to enter Kensington Metropark vehicle entry permits are required.

A Look at Van Buren Township Beginnings

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of weekly columns, entitled Our History, in which area historians will survey the history of their respective communities and the effect it has had on the development of life, as we know it, in Western Wayne County. This week Van Buren Township Cathy L. Horste will take "A Look at Van Buren Township Beginnings". Because of the length and contents of the story, it will be presented in two parts, the second installment to be published next week.

By CATHY L. HORSTE

Van Buren Township currently is a growing suburban community with a population estimated to be 19,000. Presently, more than 150 firms do business within the township's boundaries, including parts of a large auto manufacturing complex and airport. Two major highways crisscross the township, and a beautiful 9-mile lake lazily flows from the westernmost boundary to the dam at the eastern end. With all modern conveniences so readily at hand, it is difficult to imagine the township in its earlier days.

The uncharted wilderness that would eventually become the State of Michigan was first explored by Etienne Brule for France in 1618. A permanent colony of French settlers was established in Sault Ste. Marie in 1668 and Michigan was included in the French territory, surrendered to Great Britain in 1763. In 1796, General Anthony Wayne's troops occupied Ft. Detroit and formal United States rule began.

The Michigan Territory was first created and named by Congress in 1800 and divided into two smaller territories in 1805. By 1807, the Michigan, as it was called, was deeply involved in a series of Indian wars. The Indians joined forces with the British in the War of 1812, and Detroit was surrendered to the British by Governor William Hull without a struggle. The Michigan Territory became the permanent property of the United States in September 1813, when Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry defeated the British in the Battle of Lake Erie. Shortly thereafter, Congress ordered a complete survey of the Michigan Territory.

Van Buren Township was first surveyed in 1819 by Joseph Wampler. Sometimes alone, but more often with an Indian guide, Wampler literally walked the entire township area, 36 square miles. He fixed the permanent boundaries for each of the sections (36 in all) and noted the total acreage of each section, as well as the location of each hill, swamp and creek. As seen by Wampler, the chief attraction of what would become Van Buren Township was the winding of Huron River which bisected the township, flowing west to southeast.

Indians were very much a part of Van Buren Township until approximately 1843. Through a series of treaties signed in 1818, 1819, 1821 and 1836, the local tribes released their claims to Michigan soil. Several historical sources name Katie Queque and her daughter, Mary McKee, as the last Indians to live in this area. Katie Queque was the daughter of Chief Queque, better known as Walk-in-the-Water. As a very young woman, Katie "married" Thomas McKee, grandson of Adam Brown, chief of the Michigan Wyandottes. To this union one child, Mary McKee was born in 1838. Tribal records reflect that her birth occurred in the cabin of her grandfather on the banks of the Huron River in Wayne County. This site is believed to be in Van Buren Township Section 25, near the present metropark.

In 1843, Katie and her daughter (then aged 5) were removed from this area by the U.S. Government and shipped to Kansas. Hard times fell upon the tribe in Kansas and Katie apparently abandoned her daughter, as Mary listed as an orphan on the 1855 tribal roll. Katie tried to come back home, but there was no home to come to on the Michigan side. She crossed to the Wyandotte holdings in Ontario (Anderson Reserve) where she died in 1890. Mary died June 11, 1922, and is buried in an unmarked grave in the Walker family cemetery near Wyandotte, Okla. Sadly, no trace of the Queque family remains in the township today.

On March 15, 1820, the U.S. Congress proclaimed this area open for land patenting under the Land Grant Act, beginning the first Monday in July 1820. Under this act, land was made available to anyone willing to undertake the difficulties involved, for the nominal sum of $1.25 per acre. This offer was very appealing to the hardy New Englanders who already considered themselves to be overcrowded in the East.

The steps necessary to obtain a governmental land grant were relatively few. Petitioners were first required to travel to the township -- not an easy feat considering there were no roads. Upon their arrival, each selected a site and marked it in some manner. The actual filing of the grant was done in Detroit, where each petitioner was required to personally appear. The grants were hand recorded by the County Clerk in large journals. Full payment of $1.25 per acre was required within a reasonable period of the filing.

Two years passed before the first of the pioneers actually made his way to the territory. Beginning in 1823, the following pioneers took up land in what would become Van Buren Township either by grant or outright purchase:

In reunion class

A class of 315 Masons from 11 southeastern Michigan counties included six Belleville residents. The Masons receive Scottish Rite degrees at the semi-annual reunion of the Detroit Scottish Rite Bodies on April 26 and May 3 at the Detroit Masonic Temple. The 228th reunion class was named in honor of Howard M. Patterson of Wayne, a past master of Palestine Lodge No. 357, F & AM; a past Sovereign Prince of Carson Council, Princes of

May I recommend an unusual book?
FAMOUS AND CURIOUS CEMETERIES
by John Francis Marion

This is one of the most unusual books-it has been my pleasure to find. The subheading describes it as "a pictorial, historical and anecdotal view of American and European Cemeteries and the famous and infamous people who are buried there."

Mr. Marion has prepared text and photographs to take the reader on an armchair tour of 15 famous European cemeteries, 36 in the United States and 23 military cemeteries found overseas and added a brief description of hundreds of other cemeteries.

Mr. Marion's fascination with these "peaceful, spiritual repositories of silence and history" is quickly transferred to the reader. The written work is punctuated with 256 outstanding photographs to create a collection of fascinating information. It may even stimulate the readers to include certain cemeteries on their future travels.

Senior citizens receive unique apartment complex

Chidester Place Apartments in Ypsilanti is a unique 151-suite senior citizen's section 8 apartment complex based upon the HUD section 8 rental assistance program. Qualified senior citizens can obtain a suite for 25 percent of their adjusted gross income.

Chidester is managed by The FourMidAble Group of Southfield, which oversees 5,000 similar apartments in the Detroit and Metropolitan Detroit areas.

Residents at Chidester will be provided with one hot meal a day, bus transportation, medical assistance, and a variety of activities including outdoor recreation, exercise programs, crafts, dancing, cooking and painting.

Residents will also have total access to service agencies and seminars on many topics of interest, including relocation trauma, substance abuse, and family counseling. CPR training is given to all Chidester employees and health screening programs will be available on a regular basis.

While FourMidAble has initiated programs as standard procedure, many activities are requested and secured by residents themselves. An active participation in the resident council gives all residents a voice in their private community.

J. Ronald Slavik, president of FourMidAble, believes strong medical and social services are as vital as educational and recreational activities in this environment. "The residents, themselves, make us aware of their needs for continued growth in services programs". . . "this is their home, their community."

The U-Form construction of the building recently won first prize at the Atlanta Trade Center Show for 'Most Innovative Design.' The complex is both attractive and economical, and can actually save up to 30-40 percent in heating and cooling costs as opposed to those same costs with conventional masonry construction. Residents will find their suites maintain constant temperature control throughout the year.

The interior of Chidester includes an attractive lobby, indoor as well as outdoor game and activity rooms, laundry room and 24-hour guard service.

Light switches are conveniently located, support bars are placed inside the bath area to aid mobility and prevent accidents, emergency assistance switches are monitored 24 hours a day. New modern flameless kitchen appliances, smoke detectors, TV security and modern elevators are among other features offered.

Chidester Place Apartments is located at Chidester and Catherine; just exit off of I-94 Expressway at the Huron Street exit, or call (313) 487-9400 for additional information.

Financial assistance available to students

Many potential college students remain unaware of, or are not taking advantage of new financial assistance available through local colleges, reports James R. McCartney, Trustee (Westland) of Wayne Community College.

The Middle Income Student Assistance Act, introduced by Congressman William D. Ford (Democrat-15th District) and signed into law by President Carter on November 1, 1978 expands federal student assistance programs to help more students and families meet today's high cost of attending college.

The new law expands eligibility for direct Basic Grant for educational costs for students largely from working, middle-class families.

"In a typical family of four" notes McCartney "with an income of $26,000, a student will now be eligible for a grant where previously the income cut off was about $15,000."

In total, the new law will provide Michigan students over $52 million in new student aid funds.

"I feel personally," says McCartney, "that it's unfortunate more local students are not applying for this very valuable grant."

Anyone interested in the Middle Income Student Assistance Act should contact their high school counselor or the financial aid officer at the college of desired attendance to obtain more information and applications. Persons interested in information from Wayne Community College should contact Ms. Janet Maxey at the Milton Center (721-6220).

Tomorrow through Saturday

EMU to host Regional Cerebral Palsy Games

Athletes of a different sort will travel from five states and Canada to compete in the fifth annual Michigan Regional Cerebral Palsy Games tomorrow through Saturday.

Some of them wheelchair bound, others able to move on foot with the aid of crutches, and still others without crutches, a total of about 115 cerebral palsied athletes will gather at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti to take part in such activities as swimming, weightlifting, track and field, bowling, wheelchair soccer and others. Each of the events have been specially designed for individuals handicapped by cerebral palsy.

Cerebral palsy is a non-progressive condition resulting from brain damage occurring either before, during, or after birth. Its victim will often lose control of some normal physical abilities. The degree of disability varies greatly and depends on what parts of the brain are damaged and how severely.

Athletes coming to the 1980 Regional Games will hail from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Ontario. Some will compete as members of teams, others will participate individually. Many will have trained long and hard to test their physical capabilities against others with the same degree of handicap.

The philosophy of the cerebral palsy games is to give these individuals a chance to focus on and use their physical abilities by competing on an equal basis with other cerebral palsied athletes. In this way they are no longer restricted to be athletic spectators only, but become competitors and learn the sportsmanship, pride, and self esteem often acquired in athletes.

The 1980 Regional Games are prelude to the 1981 Games, when top winners will be chosen to represent this region in the National Cerebral Palsy Games to be held in the summer of 1981.

Swimming events begin at 6 p.m. tomorrow at Warner Pool, with weightlifting taking place in Warner Gymnasium. Bowling begins at 9 a.m. Friday at the Ypsi-Arbor Lanes in Ypsilanti. Ping-pong, slalom, and prognastic slalom will be held at 2 p.m. that day at Bowen Fieldhouse. Wheelchair and ambulatory soccer begin at 7 p.m. at Bowen.

Track and Field events are slated for Saturday at Rynerson Stadium. They are expected to run to 3 p.m. Individual awards will be presented by celebrities including TV-2's Beverly Payne and Gary Danielson of the Detroit Lions.

GIVING IT ALL HE'S GOT

Family classes planned

In keeping with the White House Conference on Families being conducted this year, College Week '80 at Michigan State University includes a number of classes for and about families.

Sponsored by the Family Living Education Program of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service and the MSU College of Human Ecology, College Week is more than a half century old. This year the event is set for June 16-19, with more than 50 classes and activities planned for an expected audience of more than 1,200.

College Week leader, Matti Gershenfeld, Ph.D., a Temple University psychologist, will speak on "How You Can Make a Difference in Families," June 17.

A class, examining how family members help each other learn values, attitudes and living skills, will be taught by Bea Paolucci and Paula Dance of the MSU Department of Family Ecology.

"Parental Influence on Children's Future Political and Career Choices" will be taught by Gaye Benson, a doctoral candidate in political science, and Jackie Parsons from the psychology department of the University of Michigan. The course will look at the way parents can influence the choices that students make in high school that affect their career options. Attitudes and behavior also affect the kind of political adults that children become — the parties they choose, how much they participate in the political process and their position on issues. The class offers a look at ourselves and insight into our influence on children in politics and careers.

Further information on College Week, including a registration form and brochure, is available from Kathy Bufton, extension home economist, at 563-2950 or 721-6565, ext. 251. Information also may be obtained by contacting Wilma Miller, College Week coordinator, 202 Wills House, MSU, East Lansing, or at (517) 355-6586.

What's for lunch?

Menu entrees of fried chicken, spaghetti with meat sauce and chopped steak submarine sandwiches will be on tap in the cafeterias of the Van Buren public schools next week.

In the family style program at Elwell, Quirk, Savage, West Willow and Tyler Elementary schools the menu Monday will be hamburgers or cheeseburgers on buns, french fries, green beans, applesauce, peaches, cookies and milk, while on Tuesday the lineup will include pizza, juice, corn, tossed salads with Italian Dressing, cake, pineapple and milk.

Next Wednesday the entree will be fried chicken with cranberry sauce, yam patties, mashed potatoes with gravy, brussels sprouts, beets, rolls and butter, watermelon and milk.

Next Thursday students will be served Italian spaghetti with meat sauce, tossed salads with Italian dressing, green beans, white or wheat bread and butter, fruit gelatin, peaches, crisp and milk, while topping off the week will be cook's choice.

In the remaining elementary schools the menu Monday will be soup and crackers, sloppy joes on buns, oven fries, cookies and milk, while slated for Tuesday is a lineup of spaghetti with meat sauce, squash and greens, bread and butter, fruit gelatin, bavarian and milk.

The bill of fare next Wednesday will be oven-fried chicken with cranberry sauce, mixed vegetables, mashed potatoes with gravy, rolls and butter, watermelon and milk.

Next Thursday students will be served juice, pizza, vegetable, salad or cole slaw, cake and milk, while next Friday will feature cook's choice.

In the junior and senior high schools the menu Monday will be cheeseburgers on buns or tacos and burritos, corn, french fries, gelatin, peaches and milk, with a menu of Italian spaghetti and meat sauce, or bacon, lettuce and tomato submarine sandwiches, soup and crackers, buttered greens, pineapple, french fries, cole slaw, hot garlic bread, cookies and milk slated for Tuesday.

Next Wednesday students will be dining on ravioli or Texas beef barbeque on submarine buns, French fries, tossed salads, fruit cocktail, buttered cauliflower and milk.

Next Thursday's menu will include chicken cannaloni, or chopped steak submarine sandwiches, juice, tossed salads, peaches or pineapple, French fries, chocolate cream pie and milk.

Rounding out the week will be a menu of pizza or seafood platter, green beans, cole slaw, French fries, fruit cocktail, rolls and butter and milk.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28

Read 1 Thessalonians 5:17-28

"Pray without ceasing." (1 Thessalonians 5:17)

As a child, I was put off religion by these words of Paul. They greatly puzzled me. There were lots of other things I wanted to do besides pray — bowl my hoop, bring the cows up the lane, or fetch the paper in the evening. I wanted to spend time swimming in the river, reading my story books, and gathering black-berries. In fact, there were scores of things I wanted to do. How could I do any of these things if I had to pray without ceasing? I always thought of prayer as kneeling beside my bed.

I had much to learn. I had to learn that prayer is not a particular act like kneeling with eyes closed, but an unceasing attitude. There are set times for prayer, of course; but if those are to be meaningful, we must "pray constantly."

Paul was not writing about a particular act followed continuously, because life could not be lived that way. He was writing about an unceasing attitude — an awareness that we live and move always in the presence of God. It is that intimate communion which brings significance to life.

PRAYER: Lord, I pray especially for those close to me who do not pray for themselves. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Prayer is an action, but it is also an attitude of the heart.

Merit Pre-Empts High Tars!

3 out of 4 smokers choose MERIT over leading high tar brands in tests comparing taste and tar levels.

There's a low tar cigarette that's challenging high tar smoking — and winning.

The cigarette: MERIT.

High Tars Suffer Setback.

Latest research proves smokers actually prefer MERIT over leading high tar brands!

Blind Taste Tests: In tests where brand identity was concealed, a significant majority of smokers rated the taste of low tar MERIT as good as — or better than — leading high tar brands.

Even cigarettes having twice the tar!

Smoker Preference: Among the 95% of smokers stating a preference, the MERIT low tar/good taste combination was favored 3 to 1 over high tar leaders when tar levels were revealed!

Long-Term Satisfaction: In the latest survey of former high tar smokers who have switched to MERIT, 9 out of 10 reported they continue to enjoy smoking, are glad they switched, and reported MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried!

MERIT is the proven taste alternative to high tar smoking.

Editorial opinions

Heartland Center must be saved

Although we will not pretend to know who is "right" and who is "wrong" in the dispute between Heartland Center and the State of Michigan, we do feel that institutionalizing some 300 handicapped, impaired children, young adults and elderly is no solution to a human crisis.

Officials from Heartland have informed the state and city that it will have to close its doors because they are losing money; the state argues that it can't give additional financial support to Heartland.

How much money should be paid out for the care of patients, and how much profit a private corporation should make should be worked out by the experts in the field, we cannot make that judgment.

But the dialogue should continue. We can't turn our backs on these people. Societies rise and fall on how they treat their citizens, and these people are our citizens.

Yes, there will be those who will argue that our preaching should be left for Sundays and the church, but to return people back to the institutions would be a dramatic step backward.

We would urge the things that Marge Mitchell, principal of Norris School, and president of the Western Wayne Association for Retarded Citizens urges: somehow, somehow, get all parties together and find a solution ... negotiate a new rate, or sell Heartland to the state. Reasonable people must be able to come up with reasonable solutions. If it takes a public outcry to force action, so be it.

The lives of nearly 300 persons — 150 at Wayne Heartland and others at Taylor Heartland — are at stake. These people were taken out of institutions despite the fact that many of the parents of these people were reluctant to move them from institutions. They were, in reality, talked into it by the state.

To turn around now and to send them back to institutions would be a betrayal of trust and a drastic step backward from their goal of returning the developmentally disabled to the community.

We must applaud the City of Wayne and Mayor Patrick Norton for the decision to intervene for Heartland's patients, to show compassion for Wayne citizens who needed help and got it.

From the sound of all parties concerned, no one — not the Heartland people, not the state — wants to see those developmentally disabled individuals returned to institutions as proposed.

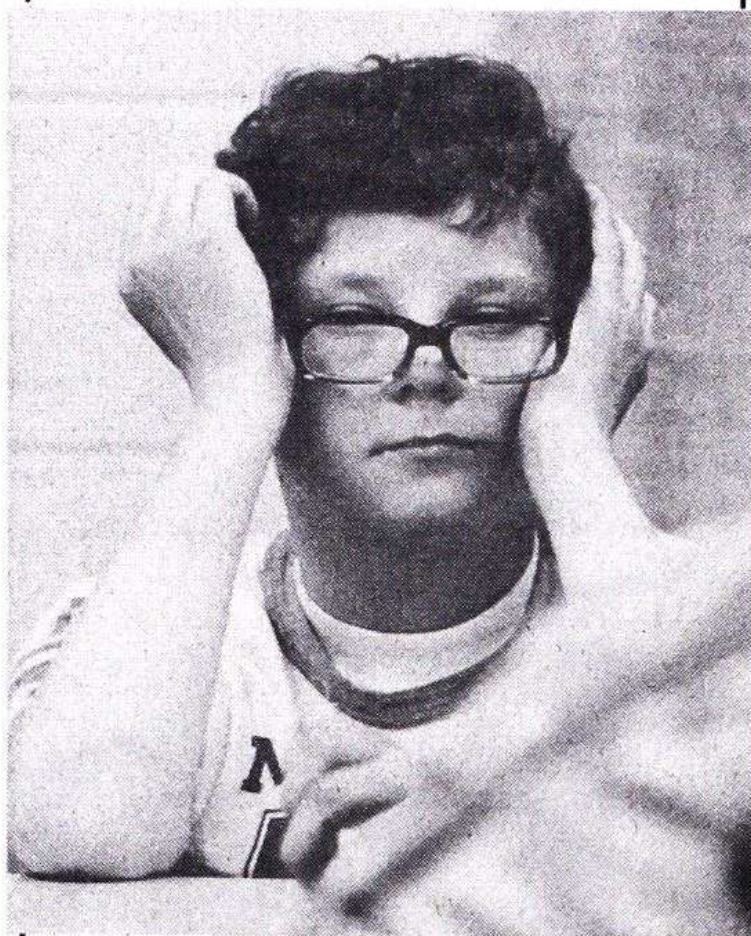

Well, if no one wants it, it doesn't have to be. It might take a lot of effort to work out a solution, but we believe there is nothing more deserving of that effort.

Why do we smoke?

By K. P. RAVIKRISHNAN, M.D.
Chief of the Pulmonary Disease Section
Department of Medicine
Wayne County General Hospital

Despite scientific consensus, public reaction to smoking has been extremely slow, if not sometime negative. In 1964, sufficient scientific data was submitted to the Federal Government about the hazards of smoking; yet smoking is still a rampant problem.

Cigarette smoking leads to a pleasant sensation for the smoker; but it carries with it problems, many of which impair the health of the person and some cut short the precious life. Cigarette smoke affects the heart and the blood vessels, leading to severe cardiovascular diseases.

Effects of smoking on the lungs are devastating. The spectrum of problems include the undesirable refractory cough, bronchitis (both acute and chronic), predisposition to respiratory infections, emphysema, and, last but not least, the lung cancer.

Besides these diseases, smoking enhances and causes progression of various pulmonary diseases that afflict man. In one particular lung disorder called "alpha 1 antitrypsin" deficiency, smoking enhances the development of bronchitis and later leads to emphysema.

In various industrial-exposure disorders of the lungs, smoking definitely compounds the problem.

The relationship of cigarette smoke to lung cancer is very real. The most distressing fact is that there is no adequate treatment in 70 to 80 percent of patients with lung cancer, because the disease is already in its advanced stage when diagnosed.

One of the main reasons for such advancement of the disease is that the most important symptom of lung cancer, "the distressing cough," is very common among smokers — and they live with it. Hence, it becomes very difficult to tell if the cough is due to irritation of the cigarettes or due to the irritation of the early tumor.

In summary, the very fact that lung cancer has a poor prognosis and, in reality, would be the death sentence for a person in whom it is diagnosed should deter anyone from smoking.

Bronchitis and emphysema do not kill a person right away and are usually taken lightly. But the problem is a major one since it causes tremendous social burden and impedes the quality of life in those afflicted. Because of the extremely slow nature of the progression of the disease, many smokers live with this rather distressing disorder.

One special note about cigarette smoking and women — pardon me for being chauvinistic. In my experience, I find that the smoke affects the female lung much more vigorously than the lungs of man. The data is very clear that the increased incidence of lung cancer among women is definitely related to increased incidence of smoking among women in the recent years. It may seem chic to take a puff, but a woman who smokes is not just enjoying smoking but is playing with fire.

Despite the facts, it is hard to convince smokers to quit; and it is even harder for a smoker to quit. As a non-smoker, I mainly direct my attention to those who have not started smoking, like the relatives of the patient. Refraining from smoking is easier than to quit smoking. A smoker does not help this cause, since his or her habit gets around.

There is no one single remedial way to stop smoking. Complete sacrifice on the part of the smoker is the only way. Many wrongly believe that there is substantial damage done already and ask why to quit now. Surprisingly, smokers have found a new freedom once they quit and find that the breath can be saved.

Think of the facts, statistics, and data every time you light up. It is never too late to stop.

A "Stop Smoking" clinic will be conducted in June for any interested individuals. For further information, contact Fern Vining or Elaine Saneske at 274-3000, extension 6214.

'One man, one vote'

By TOM MOORADIAN
Acting Managing Editor

Milton Mack Jr. is an aspiring young attorney who is a member of the Wayne City Council.

Mack also happens to be a strong advocate of the "One man, one vote" theory of government which Wayne County residents are hearing more and more about these days.

And with a Wayne County charter commission looming on the horizon and with few of us cognizant what the struggle between Detroit vs. the suburbs is about, Mack offered an "orientation course" on the subject.

"The principle of 'one man - one vote' is a fundamental necessity in a representative democracy," Mack says. "Simply, it means that every person's vote is worth as much as anyone else's. Therefore, it requires that congressmen and legislators, all other officials elected from districts, be elected from districts of equal size.

"For example, if one legislator is elected from a district containing 100,000 people while another is elected from a district containing 200,000, then obviously the person living in the larger district has only half the voting power of the person in the smaller district."

Mack carried his argument one step further.

"In the past, rural areas maintained control of legislatures by apportionment of districts that violated the principle of one man, one vote. If control meant electing 51 of 100 representatives, then 51 districts would be created in rural areas although they (the rural districts) contained less than 50 percent of the population."

In this way, Mack points out, "rural areas attempted to maintain control of government although the majority of the population had shifted to the cities. Today, however, the population shift is toward the suburban and away from the central cities."

It's doubtful that anyone will argue differently, and won't the 1980 census verify what most concede as fact?

Like a broken-down train, sometimes it takes more than an engine to get things moving.

"There is little doubt that there is a shift of population from Detroit to the suburbs," Mack says. "and, the tables being turned, Detroit still seeks to control the writing of the new charter for Wayne County. It can do this by apportioning commissioner districts based on the 1970 census although the data demonstrates that a majority of Wayne County's population no longer lives in the City of Detroit."

Mack believes that "the proposal for the August ballot to reorganize Wayne County government and elect charter commissioners from districts based on the 1970 census is one of the most flagrant violations of the principle of 'one man, one vote' in recent history."

"Although the suburbs now represent a majority of the population of Wayne County," Mack continues, "it is proposed that 16 of the 27 commissioners be elected from Detroit controlled districts. The disparity of size from district to district is enormous. The 27th district, for example which includes Wayne, Canton, Plymouth, Northville, Belleville, Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren has a population in excess of 140,000 persons. The 8th district in Detroit has a population of less than 70,000."

So what if the tormented Wayne County — mired in more than $20 million in debt — is handed over to Detroit? Why make a big deal over a debt-ridden package of real estate?

"Well, look at it this way," Mack replied, "if the charter proposal passes in its present form, Detroit will decide what the new charter will be like. Detroit will control reorganization of Wayne County. The importance of this control stems from the fact that if the new charter passes it can be expected to remain in existence for the next 50 years.

"And we are not so naive to believe that Detroit would not formulate a package to its own benefit at the suburbs' expense," Mack added. "Historically, the Detroit commissioners have regularly failed to treat the suburbs fairly. It is also reasonable to assume that this kind of treatment would continue under any new charter the Detroit commissioners would write.

"A classic example of the poor treatment given the suburbs is the refusal of the Detroit Commissioners to take action to deal with the Hines Park problem. I feel that the question of whether to apply the principle of one man, one vote to the election of the charter commissioners represents a struggle between Detroit and the suburbs.

"It is only fair that since a majority of people live in the suburbs that the suburbs should now control county governments," Mack concluded.

When you feel there is a wrong, should you keep quiet?

By TIMOTHY B. ORBACKI

My name is Tim Orbacki. I have been a resident of Canton Township for five years. I am active in the Canton Jaycees and a member of the Recreation Advisory Committee in Canton.

I try to attend as many Township Board Meetings as possible to stay aware of what is going on in our Township. On May 6, 1980, a letter was sent to a Trustee about conditions of a rescue unit.

After much heated debate, a Committee was formed to see if the charges were true. As an interested citizen with knowledge of automobiles, (working for Chrysler Corporation for eight years — repairing trucks, cars, vans, R.V. units) I volunteered my time.

I can now honestly say that it was a mistake. People can't face the truth in our Local Government, they're afraid if an outsider starts asking questions about some facts or problems, the first thing they do is form their little groups to find out what they can about the person asking questions and rip them apart so they get discouraged.

It's like a "Family Affair" in Canton Township. No matter how much a citizen does to help this township, as soon as one thing comes up that he or she sees that is not right, it's best to keep your mouth shut and overlook it because they will just tear you apart publicly and privately.

Well, let them go ahead, I'm not running for office. I have nothing to lose. Honesty is the best policy. They will have to admit that I know more than they want me to on this matter.

On May 6, 1980, I told the Board and everyone there that I would find out the facts and report back to them which I did verbally on May 13, 1980, with a written report due on May 20, 1980.

The rescue unit (Chevrolet) was neglected. One Ford has had rust in many areas. The other Ford truck no one liked to use due to the fact that the Chevrolet was a better handling truck. The Ford was involved in an accident last year. It was hit by a gravel truck and fixed to a certain point. Anything hit by an object that big isn't going to be in good shape like it was before.

I guess you could say the Fire Chief Mel Paulon should know what is going on in his department and the conditions of his trucks. I agree. He does, and has informed the Board and previous boards in writing a number of times.

Why did it take ten months to hire a mechanic? What about last year? Trucks costing $38,000 — $175,000. One mechanic and one helper for approximately sixty cars (police, building, D.P.W., ordinance, and supervisory).

No one can say that one mechanic can do all that plus fourteen trucks at the Fire Department and do a good job of preventive maintenance. There isn't even a hoist to raise the vehicles in the present DPW Building. You are working under primitive conditions as it is now. You work on your back with jackstands and hydraulic jacks holding the vehicle up.

The work takes twice as long to do because of that. The mechanic there is an exceptionally talented person doing a job that really needs help to get vehicles back in service faster and reduce the workload on him.

The Chief asked for a mechanic for a number of years. With budget cuts, red tape, what could he do? Come to every Board Meeting and

Wayne applauded

EDITOR: On behalf of this community's retarded and developmentally disabled persons, their families, and their friends, may I express sincere appreciation to the members of the Wayne City Council — and especially Mayor Patrick J. Norton, for their enlightened and compassionate action at last week's (May 20) City Council meeting.

They resolve to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the 135 multiply impaired citizens residing at the Heartland Health Care Nursing home by making all efforts to legally halt the move of these individuals to institutions as far as 150 miles away took great courage.

At a time when many communities are seeking legal options to bar handicapped persons from group home residence in their communities, it was tremendously exhilarating to witness the responsible, caring attitude of the City of Wayne to its handicapped populace.

The leadership of the City of Wayne should be applauded! I am hopeful that news of their action will spread and become a model for other cities in the State of Michigan.

I wish also to commend Ms. Maureen Camps for her very accurate and well written report of our conversation in the May 21, 1980 issue of the Wayne Eagle.

Why the Hilton?

EDITOR: I quote verbatim from an article in your May 22 issue —

"One of the most vocal and dynamic spokesmen for the small businessman in Michigan, Richard Sanford, left his city to come to Plymouth and speak before 200 people from chambers of commerce from Western Wayne County. Sanford told the audience of the importance of small business

This first luncheon meeting was held at the Plymouth Hilton."

My immediate and forceful reaction was this — There are many fine restaurants in this area operated by small businessmen who would have been delighted to host the above group.

Why in the name of all good sense did the committee choose to patronize the very antithesis of the small businessman — one of the largest evening and dining establishments in the whole wide world?

More on landfill

EDITOR: Please accept the following as my attempt to reply to the Editorial as an American Citizen, first as a land owner and resident of Sumpter for almost 14 years. I certainly agree with you, the Sumpter Township board meetings exemplify and personify how not to conduct a public meeting.

But tell us now, did you come expecting to find our elected officials versed in Canon Law, or all the names of the Saints listed on our walls, or find our officials dressed in priestly robes?

I agree that Mr. Robert Demski is a very nice person, but as our supervisor he does not lead, does not respond to the needs of our Township, or the needs of the people. As he stated, he has thoughts or feelings, but would rather keep them to himself. With this attitude, I feel that Mr. Demski is in the wrong place. Mr. Demski knows full well that the land fill is and has been uppermost in the minds of most of our citizens for a long period of time. I would like to suggest to Mr. Demski to take off his blinders and show some foresight and use his good office to pursue a course of protecting the health, safety and general welfare of all our citizens, which to me do not come in colors, just as citizens with the same rights, due process.

The citizens or board members who speak out in the language of the people and are attuned to what the people are saying, are labeled anarchists. I feel that this is unfair. I do not believe that any member of our board wishes to dispense with all law and rule on his own individual conscience.

To those to whom you pass out commendations, I feel this person to be a Robin Hood in reverse. I understand that Mr. Williams is attempting to take from our very poor Township, approximately $3,000 for himself, for service that he claims he rendered under another or prior administration. The minutes of the Township Board Meetings disclaim this. Mr. Williams was told by the then supervisor, Mrs. Dorothy N. Williams specifically and precisely that he had been compensated for any and all services rendered by him to the Township.

If this is the kind of action that he and the board accepts full responsibility for, and makes all the decisions for, we, the citizens can no longer afford him or the present Township board.

Again, I agree with you. We are in dire need of a reshuffling of attitudes and objectives. We can no longer afford the luxury of selfishness of our elected officials, nor can we afford a supervisor that keeps his thoughts and feelings to himself. We need, as you stated, good local Government. I am willing to work with any and all of our citizens to this end. Any citizen who wishes to join me to work for good local Government; that is to find good people, and support them for Township offices.

Mr. Mooradian, as a newspaper person, we are aware that you do not need an invitation, but please accept from me, a citizen not interested in any public office, an invitation to visit our Town Hall more often. You can help us and we need it.

Thank you for Olympics

EDITOR: All of the participants of the Wayne County Special Olympics and the Wayne County Civitan Clubs wish to extend their sincere thanks to the people of the community and surrounding areas for the help and concern given to us during the Special Olympic Games.

Without people like you it would be impossible to hold the games and give these "Special" people their "Special Day". We are most grateful.

From kids at Heartland

EDITOR: To someone who might hear our cry, I do hope you'll take the time to read our letter. We really don't understand too much about your job and duties, but from what we hear you are really an important man, and that is why we kids here at Heartland Centre, Wayne, Michigan are writing to you.

I guess we better tell you a little bit about ourselves. We are physically handicapped and mentally retarded. There are 145 of us in our building here at Wayne, Michigan, and about 75 just like us at Taylor Centre, Taylor, Michigan. We just found out last week we may not have our home much longer. We hear talk about finding us another home to live in, and we really do like it here. Why do we have to be moved around so much? This is so confusing to us. It's like we have no say-so about where we want to live.

I'm sorry we forgot to explain why we have to move. They say there isn't enough money to keep our home open. Just about all of us have been here since the building opened up only seven years ago. We think of each other as brothers and sisters. It is going to be hard to adjust to another place if we have to, but it is going to be even harder knowing we may not be all together again.

We don't ask for much out of life, and we don't care about luxuries (sic). Many of us don't know what it is like riding in a car, going on dates, and other things like teens our age do, but that doesn't bother us. We really don't care about all that. The only thing we are asking for is a home we can all be together in, and not have to worry about leaving.

We hope we are not asking too much. Thanks for taking time to read our letter, and we are in hopes that some day we will be able to settle down in a once again "happy environment," and not have to worry about being moved here and there.

Sincerely yours,
KIDS FROM

A pipe to trouble

EDITOR: We would like to voice our opinion on the City of Westland's right to dig up part of the island in front of our house, to connect to a water line for a house that is being built across the street.

Granted, it isn't our property but, we do cut it, fertilize it and keep it looking nice. At least we could have been told that it was going to be done. Considering the taxes we all pay, the city could at least supply the grass seed. And we're always hearing "Beautifully the City!"

Proud of Van Buren

EDITOR: I was over to the Pleasant View Cemetery, and put flowers on my husband's grave and friends for Memorial Day. As I entered the cemetery, my heart filled with joy and happiness. It was all cared for so beautiful, grass all cut so lovely. And all the graves looked like everyone was resting so peacefully.

I am very proud of our cemetery director, and all the employed help. I am very proud to be living in this lovely community in Van Buren Township. Thank you very much, you will always have my heart's interest in your hands.

Tragedy

EDITOR: Connie Renae Taylor age 14, died April 25 at Wayne County General Hospital at 3:52 p.m. She had been in the intensive care unit approximately 19 hours before her death.

On April 24, at around 7 p.m. she suffered an epileptic seizure (grand-mal) after being bathed and dressed by her mother, Mrs. Jeanette McGuff, 6070 Inkster Rd., Romulus, Michigan. She fell back into the bath water, while having the seizure. She was rescued by the mother, who kept her alive until the Taylor Emergency Ambulance Service crew and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department arrived, which were both called by the mother. Connie was immediately transported to Wayne County Hospital, thanks to the road blocks set up by the sheriff department patrol cars.

The emergency room nurses and doctors, the Intensive Care nurses and doctors worked diligently with Connie all through the night and the next day.

Connie had lived in Michigan since July 1973 with her mother and step-father, Ray and Jeanette McGuff and brother Jeffery. She had moved to Michigan to attend special education schools for the mentally impaired. Connie and Jeffery attended these schools after being diagnosed as trainable mentally impaired, and unable to attend public schools in Manchester, Tennessee.

Connie was buried in Romulus Cemetery, Tuesday, April 29. Services were held at Baum Funeral Home with her dear friends Wayne Porter of Dearborn, Michigan and Hobart Ashly of Garden City Church of Christ officiating.

The family of Connie Taylor wishes to thank the Taylor Ambulance crew, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, the doctors and nurses at Wayne County Hospital for their continuous help and support above and beyond the call of duty.

Also many thanks to all the staff at Norris School, friends and loved ones who gave their support to our family in our time of sorrow.

Ask Carol Premo

She's scared and depressed

Carol Premo, a Certified Social Worker in private practice in Belleville, Mich., will be presenting weekly answers to problems which may have been the source of either joy or pain for some of our readers.

You are invited to ask Carol about a problem or discuss a solution by mailing your letter to: Carol Premo, Associated Newspapers, 47818 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, Mich. 48111.

DEAR CAROL,

It's 10:30 in the morning and I have just finished reading your column. What in the world is going on?

Mothers hating their kids and everything is just getting too much. I feel so helpless and don't know where to turn.

Just take a look at what is happening.

Inflation — there is no way I can keep on paying these prices and live a normal life. Recession — Fords and General Motors laying off people left and right and Chrysler ready to fold. United States men held captive in Iran and our men killed trying to save them.

Can't trust our leaders anymore because even a president (Nixon) was caught in wrong doing. Crime and violence and hatred is spreading everywhere.

Look at the tragedy in Guyana. People looking to be cared for and loved and finding death. Everybody looking and searching and nobody finding.

Prisons are full (how they keep them in is a miracle with the criminal having all the rights) and Detroit decides to lay off 700 police so that they can improve the children's petting zoo. Then race riots compounded by tornadoes and even volcanoes.

Everywhere I look I see pain, hatred and devastation. I am so sorry I brought three children (I love them) in to such a rotten mess I could cry.

I don't think there are any answers and that's why I sign myself

SCARED AND DEPRESSED

DEAR SCARED,

From the tone of your letter I don't doubt for a minute that you are scared and depressed. Yes, it's true that there are many problems, serious problems facing our society today but that does not mean that there are no answers. It does mean that many people will be finding themselves anxious and depressed unless they learn to cope differently.

You tell me that everywhere you look you see hatred and destruction. Sure, they are there but where are you focusing? Maybe that's the key to survival when the going gets tough.

What about the warmth and love seen on the faces of loved ones. The beauty of the birds, trees, flowers, sky and all of the other wonders of nature cannot be overlooked. Nor can the people who continue to care, to be loving, to be helpful. All these things and more are here if we choose to look at them.

And, finally the place where many find peace in times of turmoil. In the love of God. Perhaps, this time of crisis might help many of us to refocus our lives and re-establish priorities. We may find that the smile of a friend is more important than the two cars and a boat or a vacation to Hawaii.

Try it. Try looking around you and seeing what is really important to you. You may find that things are not nearly as gloomy as you think. And if you do, by all means go out and share it.

By CAROL PREMO, Ph.D.

Reflections

The turn of the screw

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

My daughter-in-law worries a lot. She worries mostly that her big loud husband (my son) isn't gentle enough with his sons.

"Poor little Jamie," she will say. "He is so sensitive, and when his father bellers at him he just looks crushed."

Poor little Jamie is a three-year-old Superman. His favorite toy is a "sweedwiva," which, interpreted, means his father's mighty screwdriver or from his locked tool chest which only a three year old Superman can open without a key.

Jamie is suffering a trauma today and hates his grandmother because for the sake of the other kid's lives and limbs, the "sweedwiva" was taken away from him by Mighty Superman and hidden where even a three year old with an over active imagination can't find.

"I hate you, gwandma," he screamed, putting his little hands into fat little balls and coming after me in better fashion than Joe Louis in his more famous days.

"I want my 'sweedwiva,'" he screamed, baning away at me. "I gotta have my 'sweedwiva!'" And he threw himself on the floor and banged his head on the hearth.

"Jamie, that screwdriver is a dangerous tool for little fellows to be playing with," I told him with my patience fast ebbing out of me. "You know you can't have it unless your daddy is right here beside you. You KNOW that!"

"But my daddy has been gone forever," the little kid wailed, "and I gotta use my 'sweedwiva'."

I told him he would have to wait until his daddy got back from Phoenix, where he has been for three weeks, which probably does seem like forever to a wee Superman.

While the kid was banging his head on the hearth, and his older brother who decided he wasn't getting the attention he should swung from the chandelier, and wee Bobby, the two month old who fast adapted to the household, screamed away in his crib, the telephone rang.

"My God, Mom, it sounds like all hell has broken loose" My son's voice sounded as if he were next door, instead of half way across the country.

"Jamie wants his 'sweedwiva!'" I explained. "And I took it away and hid it because most of the mothers on the street like to have their kids keep their eyes as long as possible."

Jamie who had quit screaming long enough to see who was on the phone, decided it was time to press his point and began yelling again. "Tarzan Yell" as he leaped from the chandelier to the table and on to the floor. Bobby screeched louder.

"Tell those kids that I'm going to come home this minute and I beat their butts," their father gently said over 3,000 miles.

I turned from the telephone and yelled above the din. "Hey, your daddy says if you don't cut out the screaming he's going to come right home and beat your butts."

Absolute quiet. Big eyes turned on me. Three pair of huge, blue eyes. Blond heads held quiet in expectation, and then as if they were all tied to one mind they yelled, "Oh wow! Dad's coming home!" And the screaming began again.

"Quiet," I shouted. "No way, Grandma," the six year old yelled. "The louder and meaner we get the quicker Daddy will come home."

I don't think my little daughter-in-law needs to worry, those kids know their daddy loves them, even when he threatens to 'beat their little butts!' They know what is in his heart — and they react to it accordingly. But I wish he would hurry home. That 'sweedwiva' is making a big hole in my wig!

When you feel there is a wrong...

yell and drop his books to show his temper or isn't his word-of-mouth or reports submitted enough? Apparently not. He gave reports on vehicle cost and down time, to justify the hiring of a mechanic.

Who is the head of maintenance of vehicles in Canton? If the trucks don't get worked on then someone should have told the Board that the fire trucks don't get worked on until they break down. The Chief told the Board many times. No maintenance, just a part-time mechanic on weekends to catch any repairs that occurred and try to repair it if time permits.

I tried as a citizen to inform you that you're going to cost the taxpayer more in the long run by not fixing them. Diesel engines and all equipment has to be maintained full time. The Board had to know these conditions existed and if they didn't then somewhere there isn't any communication in a vital area of public safety.

These problems just didn't happen overnight, they have been here for a couple of years. With the increase in runs, fire and rescue trips are taking their toll on our trucks without good maintenance done on a daily basis.

As a citizen of this Township, and also a taxpayer, I feel the equipment should be maintained to the best conditions possible. The Canton Township firemen are experts in fire fighting. Give them trucks to back their knowledge and expertise, and a mechanic to back their trucks.

If a mistake was made, share the blame — you're only human. Be honest, but don't put the blame on Chief Paulun, that's passing the buck. Better yet I'll take the blame. I'm strong, I'll survive but will you if honesty isn't shown in the matter? I can only say I hope none of you use this as a political tactic in this year's election. The Fire Department doesn't need political tactics, they need equipment that is in good running shape 24-hours a day.

The Chief doesn't need any more promises about getting some mechanic to work on the trucks. He needs good dependable vehicles today and a budget that allows for good equipment without cuts. It's time for a change in our Local Government, citizens don't need to be talked about behind their backs when they are trying to help. That just discourages them and others from helping out and there are not very many that want to help now because of past actions against them, just like this happening to me.

I stand behind Chief Paulun, he has been short-changed for a number of years in a number of areas other than this matter. Facts speak for themselves.

Let's work together to solve these problems rather than ripping people apart in public. Action is better than words, but then again, it's only May.

Glenn continues baseball skid

Howland, Mich. 48174

Franklin is victory away from title

While Westland John Glenn's baseball skid continues, league-leading Livonia Franklin plays "the waiting game" in order to find out if it will retain the Northwest Suburban Conference championship.

Franklin knocked off Garden City East 7-3 to stay deadlocked with North Farmington, also 7-2, for the league lead. Coach Gerry Cullin's Patriots must meet Thurston, while North has to worry about Redford Union in their season finales.

If both teams win they will share the championship — a loss would deny the loser the title.

In the meantime, Franklin received a five-hit pitching effort from Ralph Scharf who disposed of Garden City East thanks to a pair of two-run rallies in the sixth and seventh innings.

Franklin staked their hurler to three runs in the first inning but East caught up and kept the game in doubt until the sixth when the Patriots broke loose for their seventh win in nine league outings.

Scharf struck out two and walked one in five innings of work, then got the necessary relieve help from junior Brad George who preserved the win.

Loser Tom Bonner got off to a shaky start as Larry Rotter rapped him for a single with one away. Herb McManaway walked and with runners on second and third Doug White drilled a two-run single. Bill Gourlay came through with a single for the third run of the inning.

Franklin put what proved to be enough runs to win it on the boards in the sixth as Rotter walked, stole second and was chased home on McManaway's triple. Bill Yeates then latched on to a run-scoring base hit.

In the seventh, Steve Droz walked but was erased on a fielder's choice, that put Bob Nolan aboard. Nolan then stole second and proceeded to third on a wild peg. Rotter's second hit chased one run in and McManaway's third hit of the game got the final tally in.

In the meantime Glenn and Coach

Norm Hoenes lost a 1-0 thriller to Redford Union. Sophomore John Paz went the distance, struck out five and walked three in allowing R.U. five hits.

Winner Tom Marsh gave up a pair of singles — one each to Dennis Meixner and Ken Schultz while notching two strikeouts and four walks.

Redford scored what proved to be the only run in the game in the bottom of the sixth inning on a walk, error and single.

Churchill handed the Rockets their ninth consecutive setback 7-2 at Hoenes tried three pitcher — Mike Taig, Troy Lindon and Ken Schultz in an unsuccessful attempt to beat the Chargers.

Dan Kelley, who pounded out two hits in four trips to the plate and Gary Vandittle, who had two hits, led Churchill's 10 hit assault.

Dennis Meixner socked a pair of singles and Paz belted a run-scoring double for the losers.

The Sports Meridian

Ex-Prep track sensation

recalls career By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

In the spring of his athletic career, Garrade Pettus probably was one of the best all-around high school athletes in the state of Michigan.

Pettus, a 1971 Belleville High graduate, still holds the area high school record at 6 feet, 8 3/4 inches. He long jumped 23 feet, 3 1/4 inches, ran the highs in 14.5 and the low hurdles in 20.0 as a prep.

And, when The Associated Newspapers' used to pick its All-Area Track & Field teams on the field on competition a few years ago, Pettus was the only athlete ever to nail down four All-Area berths.

"I used to look forward to every Friday night," Pettus said. "To me, nothing seemed more exciting than competing."

Pettus, a sturdy 27 years old, continues to generate enthusiasm wherever he goes. He was in town recently to organize an alumni basketball game at Belleville, a game unfortunately that didn't materialize because of the holidays. There were just too many of Pettus's teammates who had left town.

Pettus is employed as an assistant director of an environmental service firm in Grand Rapids where he and his wife, Faye Lese, and their two children, Garrade Jr., 2 and Evette, 5 months, reside.

Pettus believes that the caliber of athlete on the high school level is better than it was when he attended Belleville back in the late sixties and early seventies. (However, the facts don't bear him out when it comes to prep track and field. He still owns most of the records.)

"Because of the over-all training and the specialized training kids are getting, I believe that prep athletes are better," Pettus argued. "And, I also believe that we haven't reached our peak in any sport."

"Records will be broken and broken...there is no boundary to what man — or women — can do," Pettus contends.

Pettus won the Mansfield relays' title for the high jump when he cleared what was back then an "incredible height" for a prep — 6'8 3/4" — and later went on to Eastern Michigan University where he was also a standout in track and field. It wasn't until after college however that he reached that "magical" height of "seven-feet" in high jump.

"I could never do it in high school or college," he recalled, "but one day I just went over the bar — and believe me was I happy. Right now I can't even tell you when that happened."

Should we allow our U.S. Olympics team to compete in the Moscow competitions this year?

Pettus was ready with his answer: "It's very difficult to ask an athlete — be it prep, college or amateur or professional — not to compete. But aren't we putting the stamp of approval on what the Russians did if we send our athletes over there?"

Good question.

GARRADE PETTUS
As a prep he soared 6 feet, 8 3/4 inches.

Cherry Hill's perfect track team

Owner of one of the longest if not the longest high school track & field dual meet winning streaks in the state, Cherry Hill thinclads retained for an unprecedented eighth consecutive year the coveted 1980 Tri-River Conference championships. Coach Dick Gordon's Spartans put together an 8-0 record this year and have now won 54 straight meets over a period of eight years.

Wayne '9' is second best in Great Lakes 8 League

With the championship out of reach, Wayne Memorial wrapped up the 1980 Great Lakes 8 baseball conference last week splitting with league rivals.

A 5-3 victory over Monroe and a 3-2 loss to Wyandotte left Coach Jim Chronowski's Zebras with an 8-6 record, good for a second place finish in the conference.

Lincoln Park's 11-3 league mark enabled Coach Tom Noland's Railsplitters to clinch the title.

"We've played some excellent ball during the stretch," said Coach Chronowski. "Unfortunately, during the middle of this campaign we had a lapse and had to play catch-up. We never were in command of our own destiny."

Wayne rallied for five runs in the fifth inning against Monroe whose ace, John Fray, was routed in that inning. Fray appeared unbeatable in the early stages of the game as he struck out the side in the first and second innings and wound up with nine strikeouts in four innings of work.

In that crucial — for Fray — inning John Dahn walked, Bel Rumble then sliced a single to right and Don Swanson also drew a base on balls, loading the bases. A fielder's choice produced the first run, then when Joe Bradke popped what appeared to be a sure out, the centerfielder dropped the ball, allowing two more runs to score.

Fray got Mike Blair on strikes, but he gave up a single to Danny Perusse and when Larry Reid also swatted a base hit, that was all for the Monroe ace.

Reid earned the victory as he gave up eight hits, walked four but he also hit two batters. The Wayne hurler notched eight strikeouts.

Against Wyandotte, Coach Chronowski and his Zebras had things under control until the seventh when the Bruins cut a 2-all deadlock with the winning run. Rumble had an excellent day at the plate for the losers, drilling a double and a single in three appearances. He also scored once and belted in a run.

Salem sweeps Tigers

Belleville's righthanded senior hurler Mike Vance had Romulus's number — two.

Vance gave up a couple of hits and blanked Romulus 3-0 in the qualifying round of the Class A baseball playoffs staged last week at Belleville High.

"He did an excellent job," said Belleville Coach Tom Fielder, referring to his senior hurler. "He was in control all the way."

Vance notched 16 strikeouts and allowed only two hits and two walks for seven innings. The victory qualified Belleville to meet Brighton for the right to play in the District Tourney to be hosted by Ann Arbor Huron.

Belleville got to losing pitcher Marty Knight for one run in the first inning when Chris O'Keefe and Donnie Adkins collected back-to-back singles, then a sacrifice followed by Dave LeBlanc's base hit produced the run.

Knight settled down and held his area rivals scoreless until the bottom of the sixth when Knight gave up a triple to Vance, a walk to Dave Stamper, then Brian Good drilled a grounder which was booted that scored the two insurance runs.

In their Suburban 7 Conference showdown with league-leader Plymouth Salem, Belleville saw its dreams of a title shattered as the Tigers wound up on the tailend of 7-2 and 3-2 scores — the latter an eight inning affair.

Salem struck for five runs in the first inning and two more in the third to wrap up the opening game without any problems. Winning pitcher Pat McNamara whiffed 10 and walked four and gave up a pair of hits — singles to Mike Stoelton and Gregg Brinkerhoff.

Dave Slavin's two-run homer in the third and first inning single, and Mike Woodard's bases-loaded triple in the first inning led to Belleville starter, Bill White's, demise. White was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Dave Daniels.

In the nightcap, sophomore Larry Petrowski went the distance, walked two, struck out four and pitched an eight-hitter in taking his first varsity loss of the campaign. In the bottom of the eighth Petrowski served up a pair of singles — one each to Mitch Wilcox and McNamara, a walk and Mike Woodard's sacrifice fly settled the issue.

Winner Jeff Premau found himself in trouble in the first inning when Belleville scored its two runs. He yielded a leadoff single to O'Keefe, who stole second, and scored when Vance doubled.

Premau allowed four hits, walked one and fanned three in chalking up the victory.

Graham captures 4 gold medals

Kelly Graham is only a sophomore, but she's already made a name for herself in track and field.

The 16-year-old Westland John Glenn student picked up four gold medals in leading John Glenn to the Northwest Suburban Conference championship last week.

Miss Graham captured both sprint events — the 100 and 220, then earned gold medals for her performances in both the 120 and 220-yard hurdles events.

(Complete results of the meet will appear in our next edition).

Wayne hands over track title

Zebras pick up 4 league gold medals

It's all over in the Great Lakes 8 Track & Field Conference and it ended with a batch of surprises.

Wayne Memorial and Fordson, the league's co-leaders going into last week's league championships, dueled for the title right down to the end and the Tractors from Dearborn pulled out a close four-point victory over their arch-rivals.

"I'm disappointed," said Wayne Coach Ernie Righetti. "When you come so close to winning if all, then lose it, you have to be disappointed. We received some great performances from some of our people," Righetti continued, "however, it just wasn't enough. I'm still very proud of my kids. And I'm sure Fordson realized that they were in a meet right down to the end."

Fordson and Wayne carried a 6-0-1 league dual meet record into the finale. The two teams had tied recently and everything rode on the outcome of the league meet. The Tractors chalked up 159 points as compared to the Zebras' 154 points.

Taylor Center finished third (69), followed by Monroe (58), Taylor

Truman and Wyandotte, each with 20 and Riverview (16). Lincoln Park finished eighth.

Wayne did receive winning performances from Doug Tolson, Vern Bufford, Bruce Rize and Ken McGuire.

Tolson, coming off of regional victories in the one and two miles, picked up the league gold for the mile for his 4:23.2. However, he had a disappointing third place finish in the two-mile.

Bufford had no trouble winning the 100-yard dash. He beat Taylor Center's Ed Jones to the finish line, but the Wayne sprinter struggled in the 220 where Fordson's Mike Pappas managed to nose out another Wayne runner, Darryl Hamil, by a tenth of a second. Pappas's winning time was clocked at 23.2.

Rize's toss of 141 feet, 11 1/2 inches was the tops for the discus. McGuire and Jim Zerna gave the Zebras a 1-2 in the pole vaulting competition. McGuire got the gold when he cleared 13 feet; Zerna settled for the silver medal thanks to a 12 foot, 6 inch effort.

Romulus swings into softball year

Captain Nemo's and Bingamen Agency shared the Men's Class A softball lead with 2-0 records after the first week of play.

Nemo's had an easy time with Michigan Bell, romping to a 21-6 win. But they had a tougher time in their second game as Mick McMann scored the deciding run in the bottom of the seventh to edge Hal's Market, 8-7.

Johnny Leg's four hits led Bingamen Agency to an easy 25-12 win over Joni's Hanger and they rolled on with a 7-2 decision over Michigan Contractors.

Mel Allen had two home runs as Belleville Die beat Hal's Market, 12-6, but Belleville dropped its second game to Michigan Bell, 23-12. Stege Patterson went 4-for-4 as Joni's Hanger evened its record at 1-1 with a 17-10 decision over Belleville Die.

Larry Chesno, playing for Michigan Contractors, had a perfect day at the poate with four singles and a home run in leading his team to a 19-16 win over Bates and Sons.

In Romulus Class B Men's action, Johnny's Party Store and Bates & Sons each won two games to share top spot with 2-0 marks.

Johnny's walloped Crova-Bailey's, 13-3, and came back on the hitting of Jay Barton and Jerry Sweda to beat Schnieders-Delta. Barton started it off with a 3-run homer, pitched a good game and was outstanding defensively in the 12-8 win. Sweda rapped 3-for-4.

Bates swept two, with right center fielder Williams going 4-for-4 in an easy 16-5 victory over VFW. Yzerik led Bates in the second game to a 12-8 win over Colburn Shell with a perfect 4-for-4 night.

Schnieder's Delta Drugs evened record at 1-1 by edging Romulus ss Repair, 9-8, despite two home runs and a single by Rich Stachurst, catcher for Press Repair.

Drysdale Pellets split a pair, riding Bill Crosby's two doubles and a single to an 11-6 win over Colburn Shell. However, Drysdale was ambushed by Crova, 12-11, when Reedy hammered a 2-run homer early and later added a pair of singles.

Class A Women's play saw Morgan Collision, and APA share first place with 2-0 marks.

Pitcher Bertha Sterling fired a 5-hitter for Morgan in a 12-0 victory over Suburban Oil. In their second win, Dianna Kampen went 4-for-4 over Progressive Club, 9-3.

APA got strong pitching from

Casey as she fired them to a 5-2 victory over Progressive Club. Vickie Gray had two singles and a home run in leading APA over Little Caesar's, 13-4. Suzanne Fitzpatrick had 3-for-3 and Gail Maiani hit 3-for-4 in a losing effort for the pizza parlor.

Mr. Roberts merced Bilmar's 17-1 and beat Captain Nemo's, 6-3.

In other games, Little Caesar's shut out Captain Nemo's, 10-0 and Bilmar's was walloped by Suburban Oil, 23-4 as Suburban rallied for 14 runs in the first inning.

In Class B Women's play, R.L. Coolsaet was all alone in first place with a 2-0 record. They defeated Dobb's House, 10-0, with Guetschoff leading the attack with 3-for-4. Coolsaet scored six runs in the second inning to settle the issue in beating Burcroff Furniture, 10-5.

Osborn Trucking and Emery are knotted for second place with 1-1 marks. Osborn beat Burcroff Furniture, 21-5. Linda Ferreno led Osborn hitters with two home runs, one with two players on base and the other a solo shot.

J. Kwek had three hits in helping Emery even its record at .500 in a 9-5 win over Osborn Trucking.

F.X. Coughlin won its only game with a 13-12 victory over the Hustlers. Hewey led Coughlin with four hits in five trips.

Jac's Lounge has a perfect 1-0 mark after beating rival Dobb's House, 19-10, in a game shortened by time limit.

In Men's Open Friday Night League play, four teams are tied for first with 1-0 records, while four share last place with 0-1 slates.

Dennis Richards went 4-for-4, Tom McClosky and Willie Boone each homered as Romulus Merchants downed DST Industries, 14-10. Larry Norman had a home run for the losers.

Mark Jager blasted a round-tripper to lead off the 5th inning in the Kings 14-6 rout of Bud's Rent-In.

Robert Steward homered in the first, second and fourth innings and his teammates hit eight other home runs in Southwestern's devastating, 31-4, muscling of E & V Plastics.

City Sand of Sumpter outlasted Delta Airlines, 18-8, in a home run derby. Craig Johnson, Rob Hogg and Henry Barker cleared the fence for City Sand while Jerry Holbrook and Gary Gentle homered for the losers.

In Class B Friday night action, Orme Contracting won an error-filled contest over Dannon Yogurt, 16-7. Most of the damage was done in the first two innings, when Orme scored 11 runs on just four hits and capitalized on 10 Dannon errors.

Wayne Butzin singled home William Foreman in the bottom of the 7th as Tom's Tavern won a low-scoring squeaker, 4-3, over National Car Rental.

In a run-a-way, T-Shirts and Things merced the Bullets, 34-7. Mike Hodges paced the attack with 4-for-4, including a second-inning home run.

Dobbs House scored six runs in the bottom of the 5th in their 12-3 romp over Federal Mogul.

Wayne has best girls' track team in GL-8

Smith is crowned champ in four events

Wayne Memorial's girls' track & field team capped an undefeated dual meet season by winning the 1980 version of the Great Lakes 8 Conference championship.

With Michelle Smith providing the Zebras with three first places and anchoring the winning mile relay, Coach Floyd Carter's team piled up 133 points, 23 points more than their nearest rival, Monroe.

"It was a good way to end the season," Carter said. "These girls have worked hard to win and, obviously, we're proud to be where we are."

Miss Smith ran a 15.2 in winning the 100-yard low hurdles, beating teammate Pam Matyjasik to the wire. Smith then covered the 220-yard hurdles in 31.4 and ran 60.8 for the 440-yard run for her three gold medals.

In the mile relay, Smith teamed with Carol Stocchi, Jacelyn Jacks and Valerie Whitfield to win in a school-record breaking time of 4:14.

Wayne also had the best quarter-mile relay team in the league thanks to Yolanda Olsup, Kyra Warren, Pam Hayes and Carol Stocchi, who ran 51 seconds for their victory while the 88-yard Wayne team was made up of Pam Hayes, Carol Stocchi, Kim Eldridge and Jacks.

Miss Matyjasik's found her way to the winner's dias in the long jump after a 15 feet, 6 inches performance, while she earned a second place medal for her effort in the high jump (5'1").

Laura Weyand was crowned as a league champ in the 2-mile after finishing in 12:26, while Kyra Warren finished first for the 100-yard dash. She was clocked in 11.3.

Wayne won all nine of their dual meets this year and snatched the league title away from Monroe, who has owned the championship for the past three years.

No longer 'bridesmaids'

After three years as the league's "bridesmaids," Wayne Memorial's girls' track team moved up and disposed of Monroe, the perennial Great Lakes 8 Conference track & field champ. Coach Floyd Carter's Zebras trampled the Trojans in head-on competition and won the league meet to emerge with the crown outright.

South launches baseball season

Romulus South Senior Little League began its 1980 season last week, with four teams competing this year.

Daly Drive-In, managed by veteran manager Barry Baumann; Colburn Shell, managed by Leonard Ottenbeit; Baum Funeral Home, managed by Dave Clark; and Canajo Trucking, managed by Chuck Wilcox.

In the first of back-to-back games, the "Mets" of Canajo Trucking edged out the Baum Funeral Home "Giants" 8-7.

Bernie Zarb went 3-4 and Matt Oaks added 3 RBI's to aid winning pitcher Lee Wilcox.

In the second meeting, the Mets bombed the Giants 17-9, with pitcher Mike Panek helping his winning cause by going 4-4.

Also Lee Wilcox added 3 RBI's along with Matt Oaks. Robert Gschwend, the game's losing pitcher went 3-4 in his attempt to help his cause.

In the other games, the "Brewers" of Daly Drive-In swept a pair from the "Cardinals" of Colburn Shell by identical scores of 5-4, with the second game going into extra innings.

The first Brewer victory saw winning pitcher Chris Marsiglia go the distance for the win. Todd Gibbs went 3-3, with Matt Bossory and Joel Smith going 2-4. Chris Hoth went 4-4 in a losing cause for the Cardinals. The second game provided the same intensity as the first.

Again the Cardinals went in front early, forcing the Brewers to fight back to eventually take the lead which held. Joel Smith went the distance for the first 7 innings, with Todd Gibbs getting the save in extra innings.

Tim Holt, the losing pitcher however pitched an outstanding game, with 12 strikeouts. Chris Marsiglia had the key 3 run hit for the Brewers which kept them in the game. So the Brewers and Mets are tied for 1st with 2-0 marks, with the Giants and Cardinals sitting at the bottom with 0-2 records.

Completing the second week of the season, Daly Drive-In "Brewers" have taken a commanding 2 game lead in the Romulus South Senior Little League circuit.

In games this week, the "Brewers" whipped the Baum Funeral Home Giants 15-7, behind the 2 hit pitching of Todd Gibbs. In other play, the Brewers nipped the "Mets" of Canajo Trucking, 8-3, with pitcher Chris Marsiglia getting his second win of the season, also on a 2-hitter.

Earlier in the week, the Mets suffered back-to-back losses to the Cardinals of Colburn Shell, with Dave Blevins and Matt Percy getting the pitching wins.

"I tried to contact most of the kids," Syria said, "however, there were some we were not able to reach. Therefore if there are any Connie Mack ball players out there who wish to play for us, ask them to contact me."

To be eligible to compete in the Connie Mack league, players must be between the ages of 16 and 18. Syria can be reached at 699-7959 for further information.

East meets West 'Mother' gains gourmet cook

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

When Susan Davis of Grosse Ile added Mika Matsuo to her family last August, she got more than an 18-year-old Japanese foreign exchange student. She also acquired a gourmet cook with a penchant for desserts.

Mika readily admits she likes to eat, "mostly desserts". A native of Kyoto, Japan, she has no favorite dessert, she just likes "everything".

Adjusting to western life styles and food has not been difficult for the senior at Grosse Ile High School. A visit to California three years ago introduced her to American life. However, Americans tend to consume more starch than Japanese and that fact has accounted for an additional 15 pounds on Mika's slight frame.

According to Mika, every subject is a requirement in Japanese schools, as opposed to the American system of required classes and electives. Her busy schedule here includes playing the xylophone in the symphonic band, the glockenspiel in the marching band and taking courses in American history, physical education, typing, communications, cooking and humanities.

Mika admits that she learned her domestic arts from her mother, who spent a great deal of time working with her daughter on such skills as cooking.

While she excels in desserts, she also is capable in creating other Japanese dishes, recently treating her host family to a dinner of Sukiyaki with all the proper side dishes, including seaweed.

Her "American mother" has had several exchange students through Youth For Understanding and says that the adjustment with Mika was easy.

"For me it was easy," she says. "We have a lot of similar likes and dislikes, except for raw fish (a Japanese dish) ... 'That's where I draw the line!'"

Mika, to keep her hand in the art of cooking, has tracked down a store in Southfield that carries Japanese food stuffs, imported from her homeland. But she admits prices for the products are somewhat higher here than in her native Japan.

She will be returning to Japan on July 24 and says that it "will be hard to adjust" even though she will be happy to be home after being away almost 12 months.

While she will graduate next month from Grosse Ile High, her schooling won't be over. When Mika returns to Japan she will resume her studies at a private, all girls' school to complete her final year, which will end in April 1981. Japan schools are set up on a year-round basis.

She admits she will miss her "American mother", who is vowing a visit to Japan next year, and her new found friends.

She hopes to study to be a teacher when she returns home. Her sister, a recent university graduate, currently is teaching cooking. Her father is a shopkeeper in Kyoto, selling flags and trophies.

"This was one of the biggest and best experiences of my life," Mika

EARLY RETIREMENT
A report indicates that early retirement is being used by more companies as a way to replace older men with younger ones. A growing number of specialists believe people will be retired early enough to start second careers.
Whether you are starting a first career or a second one,
the place to look for opportunity is the (Associated
